Milton Garris AKA Budda, is a military brat, born in Connecticut. The nick name Budda came about during an interview years ago, where the interviewer got his name wrong. The name just stuck and from then on he was known as Budda. Budda has a love of music, which allows him to create beats that everyone loves. Making music is something that he truly loves to do, the money is not a factor.

Budda gets his influences from the likes of Russel Simmons, DJ Khaled, EPMD, Rakim, Tribe Called Quest, Outcast, KRS ONE, UGK, and Monsta Luther King. While attending Omnitech in 2012, Budda met Alvin Spights and was able to intern for him. Budda's goal is to be apart of something great. He feels as though LOAD BREED will help him accomplish his goals in the music industry and land him 5 hits on the top ten billboard charts.
